NOT TOO NOSEY

The late William Lewis grand jury was accused by some people of being too nose-y—in other words they are accused of sticking their schnozzles into places and affairs that evidently were not in a condition to undergo scrutiny.

It is human nature to become aggravated when some person or body catches up with us and exposes conditions that were meant by those responsible for them to be kept under cover. However, that is what we pay the probers for, and the answer is that if we don't want to be investigated, we had better keep things half-way decent, clean and respectable.

DIRTY SCHOOLS
It was rather startling to find that certain public schools in the county (not in the western end) were in a most unsanitary condition and constituted a menace to the health of the children. It was equally disappointing to be informed that some of the teachers were slovenly and dirty and far from being an exemplification of that old truism that "cleanliness is next to Godliness."

FIXING THE BLAME
I do not know where the fault lies, but in the final analysis I would say that the school trustees are culpable. If their conception of their duties is simply to hold a session when the law demands and transact routine business, then I would say they are ill-fitted to hold such positions.

It has been a long time since a grammar school was burdened with my presence, but I distinctly recall unannounced visits from the trustees. Those were fluttery occasions.

Speaking of Sports

ALBANY, N. Y., July 2.—UP—Edwin (Alabama) Pitts' grin has developed into a broad smile.

The friendly youth, who was "graduated" from Sing Sing prison "with honors," is happy in his new role as a member of the Albany baseball club of the International League.

He feels confident he has embarked on a baseball career which will lead him to the major leagues and a "pot of gold."

After his first game against Syracuse, Pitts really smiled for the first time since Sing Sing's gates were swung open for him to walk into the world a free man.

Gains New Confidence
A visit to Syracuse he cracked out two hits in a double-header. They gave him confidence.

"That first hit," he said, "gave me one of the biggest thrills in my life."

Pitts, who was permitted to enter organized baseball only after Commissioner K. M. Landis overruled a league's committee decision barring ex-convicts from the national pastime, admits the Sing Sing "stretch" gave him a new view on life.

"Things are different now," he commented. "I never knew a man could have so many friends."

Fans Behind Pitts
He referred to the cheers of at least 8,000 fans which greeted him when he trotted onto the field for the first time.

Baseball officials and writers believe that Pitts "has the stuff" to make the grade in International League baseball.

Charles Young, veteran Albany baseball expert, after watching Pitts in his first game, said: "I was greatly impressed by his play."

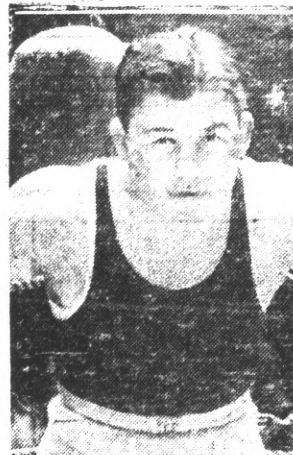

Evers Also Optimistic
John Evers, famous big league star of past years, and Al Mamet, manager of the Albany club, were jubilant over Pitts' prospects.

Anyway, Pitts, who has won his way into the hearts of Albany's fans, has his heart set on only one thing—a baseball career leading to a major league berth.

"I've got to make good now and I feel confident that I can," he said.

P. O. ROBBER IS TRAPPED HERE BY BANK TELLER

Jack Berry, 27, alias Charles Harmon alias Edward Larson, was turned over to Federal authorities by Richmond police yesterday for prosecution by the government on charges of robbing the Aptos post office in Santa Cruz county of a small amount of cash, stamps and money order books. Arrested by local police, Berry is said to have confessed the robbery.

Berry was arrested when he attempted to cash a forged money order at the Bank of America at Twelfth and Macdonald. Teller Kenneth Lutz became suspicious when the order was presented to him and consulted a circular sent to banks by postoffice officials. Lutz signalled others in the bank to call police while he asked Berry to wait. Captain of Police Oliver Wylie made the arrest. Police say Berry carried a small satchel containing several blank money orders stolen from the postoffice, seven of which were filled out and ready to be passed. Postoffice officials came here and took Berry's confession. He is said to have served two terms in prison.

Berry is said to have passed one of the money orders in El Cerrito and another in Oakland. He lived in Aptos for two years under the name of Edward Larson and operated a hotel there with a man named J. Bradford Larson who was recently arrested on a minor charge.

SUSPECTS TO FACE HEARING FOR MURDER

DETROIT, July 2—UP—William Schweitzer and two of the three women who were arrested and held toward the end of last month will be arraigned today on murder charges. Prosecutors said the arrests were made today.

Warranted for the 27 year old underweight man, who confessed to the murder of Lillian and the Jackson sisters, Florida and Florence, will be arraigned and the three brought to court immediately afterward.

FOURTH WITNESS

Jean Miller, fourth of the confessed participants in the slaying, probably will be called as a witness against her co-participants. Miller indicated she has contended that she should not participate in the robbery of the 27 year old nephew of Judge Charles Evans Hughes but has been charged she was in the act to murder him.

Schweitzer and the sisters, who "killed" Lillian from his hotel room last Wednesday night, to Rouse D. Evans, who was slain, face life imprisonment, the maximum penalty that Michigan can exact for the crime of murder.

CHARGES PLANNED

The Michigan state grand jury late yesterday paved the way for Schweitzer's confession, could still face trial on robbery charges, if she appears as a witness against her co-participants.

It appeared not improbable that Schweitzer might plead guilty when he is brought before Judge Thomas W. Cafferly today before noon. What the probable plea of the Jackson sisters would be was not known. Both have said they were "very bitter" against Schweitzer.

IS DOWNCAST

Schweitzer was downcast in his cell. The three women still clothed in the charge of murder, which they bought them in Detroit, were on the verge of collapse.

Police were closing in to find out whether Schweitzer had previously used the women around in clubs, hotels and drinking spots to lure prosperous appearing men out where he could rob them.

The Jackson sisters told Prosecutor McCrea that they agreed to the killing because Schweitzer told them that if they got as much as $1000, he would "take a rest" and they could "dance in it."

One Killed, 75 Are Injured In Rioting At Camp

REGINA, Sask., July 2—UP—Rioting at a camp strikers took one dead and 75 injured, two critically, today after a clash with police last night. Arthur Evans, strike leader, and more than a score of the rioters are under arrest. Detective Charles Millar was beaten to death when seized by strikers, as police attempted to disperse a meeting of 3000 deserters from the Western Unemployment Relief Camp and sympathizers.

Berlin Swept By New Riots Against Jews

BERLIN, July 2—UP—For the second successive night Nazi youths tonight staged anti-semitic demonstrations in Berlin's Neukölln district.

"Jew—Perish in Judah," was the admonition painted by the rioting youths on the windows of Jewish shopkeepers.

"Return to Palestine" was painted on scores of shops in the Hermannstrasse.

The demonstrations, however, lacked enthusiasm. Crowds of bystanders appeared indifferent and the listless youths, a majority between 16 and 18 years old, finally dispersed without necessity for police intervention.

Officers Seeking Wielder Of Knife

Deputy sheriffs who investigated the matter reported that the men became engaged in an argument Sunday night and Alvarado whipped out a knife and slashed Ramirez. He fled after the attack.

SERA Misuse Of Funds Charged

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2—A wide spread Department of Justice investigation into the reported misuse of Federal funds by the SERA in northern California is under way. United States District Attorney H. McPike revealed today.

The inquiry is being directed into numerous complaints of misuse of funds, material and property loaned the SERA through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

At least six companies involved in SERA affairs, principally in Oakland and San Jose, already are being checked by the Department of Justice agents, McPike said.

MOONEY BITTER ON DECISION OF HIGH COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2—UP—Tom Mooney today added another charge of unfair legal treatment to his long list of bitter complaints against 18 years' imprisonment.

Through his attorneys, he charged that the State Supreme Court illegally had denied him the right of a personal appearance when the court tomorrow opens a hearing on his petition for writ of habeas corpus.

ONLY PRELIMINARIES

"Whether he will be brought here for personal appearance, the court later will be considered, should his presence be necessary," Justice Wente commented. Tomorrow's hearing is expected to be the start of a protracted legal battle between Mooney's attorneys and those of the state.

California Attorney General S. Webb already has filed an answer to Mooney's charges that he was convicted on perjured evidence.

TWO COURSES OPEN

Unless the State can disprove Mooney's claims, however, a course of action must be taken. If the court refuses to grant a writ, his attorneys have indicated, his charges will be placed once more before the United States Supreme Court. The state's high tribunal has refused consideration of his case once, a sign of its ruling indicated a categorical hearing in event California courts decide to take the case.

Mooney's counsel has announced the bombing trial will be continued to appear before the court or the judge or justice appointed to review testimony in a hearing. These witnesses include John McDonald, itinerant worker and others who repudiated their testimony at Mooney's trial.

Subsequently challenged statements of prosecution witnesses.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

WASHINGTON, July 2—The real story of what took place during the momentous conversation between Captain Anthony Eden and pugnacious Benito Mussolini, during their talk on Ethiopia has just been cabled confidentially to the State Department.

Young Eden used high pressure diplomacy. He presented a carefully worked-out case. The two chief arguments were:

1—That Mussolini must consider the effect on the peace of Europe if the Fascist government in Italy were weakened.

2—That Mussolini must consider the effect on white men's governments in Africa, if Ethiopia should give Italy a real challenge.

Regarding the first Captain Eden reminded Il Duce that it was quite conceivable that the Ethiopian campaign would require more than the three months which Mussolini has figured. Prolongation of the war would mean loss of prestige, money men. It might seriously weaken Italy finances.

More important, he argued, it might undermine the Fascist government and should Fascism fall, or be replaced by a weaker government, the future of European peace was put in real jeopardy.

Italy, the young Briton emphasized, was the keystone of European peace. A weak Italy would mean that Yugoslavia might bite off the Adriatic coast and Fiume. Or Hitler might march into Austria.

Britain and France, Eden argued both depended on Italy. Regarding the second point, he reminded the Fascist dictator that it was not impossible that Emperor Haile Selassie might win. An Ethiopian army he recalled, has been victorious once before.

And he painted a graphic picture of what would happen to the white man's prestige in Africa should Italian troops suffer defeat. Not only would Italy's own colonies in Africa face revolt from native tribesmen, but British, French and other colonies would face trouble and bloodshed.

To this Mussolini turned a deaf ear. If Britain and France were worried about the situation, he replied, why did they not persuade Emperor Haile Selassie to yield to Italian wishes? Italy, he said, would be glad to avoid war.

Captain Eden replied that Haile Selassie remained Emperor of Ethiopia only so long as he followed the patriotism of 100 per cent of the Ethiopian population; that the minute he showed signs of retreat, all too many native princes were ready to take his place.

Here the conversation deadlocked. Mussolini stated emphatically that Italy needed expansion and the matter ahead.

Leaders Of New Chinese Revolt Are Executed
PEIPING, July 2—UP—Firing squad rifles cracked throughout this afternoon as convicted ring-leaders of last week's rebellion by General Wan Fu-Lin's 53d army were executed against a white-washed wall at the old temple of agriculture.

A stone's throw from China's majestic Temple of Heaven, Captain Tuan Cheng Chih, commander of the armored train which shelled Peiping's ancient walls, died first.

Tuan and scores of other rebels were captured by Peiping garrison forces at Tungchow, head of navigation on the grand canal, and brought here for trial by courts martial. Officials said when the military courts finish their work 120 soldiers, mostly privates, will have paid the death penalty.

Many of the captured rebels pleaded vainly that when they advanced on Peiping from Fengtai they understood they officially were ordered to suppress rioting in the ancient capital.

STOCK MARKET IS QUIET IN UTILITY ROW
NEW YORK, July 2—UP—A selective and dull market, now that the utility problem has received attention, tonight appeared likely in view of the Fourth of July holiday Thursday.

Utilities followed the pattern Wall Street expected. There was a rush of buying at the opening. Calm followed as appraisal was made of what the House had done. The view on the bill tonight was:

1.—Elimination of the holding company "death clause" was constructive.

2.—The bill still contains many features which utility companies consider difficult.

3.—Conflicting Senate and House action must be decided by conference. Co-authors, Senator Wheeler and Representative Rayburn, see a possibility—though remote—the bill may die in conference.

Charges there was heavy administration pressure intruded the financial district. There was no market reaction thus far.

One other legislative development of interest was the committee report of a banking bill satisfactory to Senator Glass.

But legislative difficulties continue to make an uncertain outlook for the market. There is too much confusion to permit a definite swing. Wall Street is optimistic. The longer term trend appears good. But until Congress packs up and goes home, there is always the threat of legislation that will upset trading positions, although the House again today gave indication of breaking away from administration dominance on social legislation.

There appears no likelihood of any great change this week, unless news reports bring something important. A typical preholiday session appeared likely tomorrow.

BIG HOLIDAY FOX PROGRAM FOR FOURTH

The Fox theatre will present a gala 4th of July program starting tomorrow consisting of two outstanding film features headed by "Let 'Em Have It," heralded as the greatest of all "G Men" thrillers.

The theatre will start screening this double program at 1:00 P.M. and run continuously until 11:00 P.M., tomorrow because of the holiday.

"Let 'Em Have It" deals with methods used in rounding up various public enemies, backed with a romantic love story, the heroism of operatives and the ruthlessness of their adversaries. Many episodes of recent months have been utilized in telling the story.

"Hooray For Love" starts a host of favorites headed by Gene Raymond, Ann Southern, Bill Robinson, Maria Gambarelli, Pert Kelton, "Fats" Waller and Sam Hardy.

The plot relates to a Broadway musical show with novel story treatment, concerning the difficulties met with by Gene Raymond when he attempts to produce a show of his own immediately after graduating from college. The result is a delightful romance, set against a background of tinsel songs, hilarious comedy and fast action.

Outstanding musical numbers, including "You're An Angel," "I'm In Love All Over Again," "I'm Living in a Great Big Way" and others are featured.

TWO HITS TODAY
"Traveling Saleslady" with Joan Blondell, Glenda Farrell, Hugh Herbert and a big cast of funnakers plays for the last times today at the Fox theatre on the same program with Jack Holt in "The Unwelcome Stranger."

The rites will be held from the Wilson & Kratzer chapel with interment to follow at Sunset View cemetery.

But legislative difficulties continue to make an uncertain outlook for the market. There is too much confusion to permit a definite swing. Wall Street is optimistic. The longer term trend appears good. But until Congress packs up and goes home, there is always the threat of legislation that will upset trading positions, although the House again today gave indication of breaking away from administration dominance on social legislation.

There appears no likelihood of any great change this week, unless news reports bring something important. A typical preholiday session appeared likely tomorrow.

Probation of two years, suspension of his automobile operator's license for one year and a fine of $30 was the punishment Superior Judge Thomas D. NEW YORK INSIDE OUT

By DON O'MALLEY

NEW YORK, July 2—Elmer Rice is back with a new organization, the Theater Alliance, and this time he's got members from the industrial and professional circles of the city to back up the stability of the undertaking.

Arthur S. Kleiman, who heads the financial investment firm which bears his name, is chairman of the advisory board. Arthur J. Morris, founder of the Morris Plan, Kenneth Hazare, president of The Wall Street Journal, Major Eugene F. Kinkaid, Dr. Paul Schwartz and about a dozen other prominent men are going to pool their knowledge of money fluctuations to help put the new dramatic scheme on its legs and to see that it gets safely by the rickety stage.

Elmer Rice's co-operative ambitions collapsed rather woefully last season. He put on "Between Two Worlds" and "Judgment Day" both plays of his own authorship, and ran his hopes into a box office quagmire. This time, with Sam Jaffe, Helen Arthur, Benish Bondi, Philip Leach and several other actors, to advise him, and with the financial gents to support him, he's grimly bent on a fool-proof adventure.

SORROWFUL—Fred Stone, for many years one of the theater's greatest favorites, has at last succumbed to the siren call of the movies. Fred is one of the last of the great stars to give in. For many years a member of the noted team of Montgomery and Stone, for many more the leading figure in sponsored musical extravaganzas produced by the late Charles B. Dillingham, he was kind of sorrowful just before he left for Hollywood to make his first picture.

"Few are left to entertain the comparatively small number of entertainment seekers who still patronize the legitimate theater," said the veteran. "Old timers like myself are either in Hollywood or in retirement, and the pictures snatch all the bright young talent that appears on Broadway."

It may be an ignominious grave, Fred, but there'll be plenty of money to erect an impressive monument as consolation.

LOGICAL—The wonders of Radio City by now have been spread far and wide, reaching into the remotest corners of the nation. You can hardly blame the tourist, then, who stepped up to the doorman at the Music Hall the other day and asked with most business-like directness:

"On what floor do we see 5th Rocketeller?"

FAR CRY—You'll have to look hard to find a better dressed group of New Yorkers than the musicians in the various hotel orchestras around town. Especially during the summer season, they look like gleaming angelic figures who might have stepped right out of some celestial band-box.

Ancient Hanging Rule Is Broken

FOLLOM PRISON, July 2. UP—The Friday hanging "rule" at Folsom prison may be broken Wednesday, July 10.

Harry Garcia, San Francisco convicted robber, is scheduled to be hanged on that day for the killing of Juan Garcia, and Stanley C. Price, Los Angeles convict in the prison yard October 1, 1932.

Superior Judge Dal M. Lennon of Sacramento set the date for the hanging.

Two Inquests Are Conducted In City

A verdict of accidental death due to burns sustained June 29 in a high test gasoline vapor explosion at the local Standard Oil plant, was returned by a coroner's jury in the case of the late A. J. Robinson, Jr., 21, of Berkeley. The jury was unable to determine the cause of the accident.

In the death of Mrs. Mae Marie Cetz, who died June 21, the jury brought in a verdict of natural death.

New President Of Georgetown Named

WASHINGTON, July 2. The Rev. Arthur A. O'Leary, S. J. professor of philosophy at Georgetown University, today was a pointed president of the university and chairman of its board of regents. He is the first Washingtonian in 116 years to head the oldest educational institution in the Capital.

He succeeds the Rev. Dr. Coleman Nevils, S. J., of Philadelphia, for whom the Jesuit order had broken a precedent by retaining him in the presidency a year beyond the traditional six-year term.

Tariff Increase Asked For Island

MANILA, P. I., July 2. Tariff increases intended to preserve for American exporters about half of the Philippine textile market, which is fast being captured by Japanese, were asked of insular legislative leaders today by Governor General Frank Murphy. The executive disclosed he was considering sending a special message to the current Legislature asking tariff revision and the granting of a franchise to Pan-American Airways' trans-Pacific line.

Warners Seek Film-Impounding Order Vacated

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—UP—Attorneys for Warner Brothers, film producers, today asked the United States Circuit Court of Appeals to vacate a Los Angeles federal court order impounding one of their pictures, "Across the Pacific."

M. P. Echevarria, whose attorneys said he was a grandson of Emilio Aguinaldo, famed revolutionary leader of the Philippines, claims that the film infringes on a story written by him.

Echevarria's counsel, William Shvick, told the court that impounding of one copy of the film, pending the infringement trial next month, would suffice.

Clarence Hanson, Warner Brothers attorney, insisted that the whole order should be vacated and that the motion picture industry should be protected against impounding orders unless adequate bond is posted by plaintiffs.

Trial Of Alleged S. O. Bombers Is Postponed Week

MODESTO, July 2.—UP—Trial of nine bay district Union Maritime workers, charged with five felony counts for an alleged plot to dynamite Standard Oil Company property near Patterson, was this afternoon postponed until July 9.

Two of the defendants, Alphonso Buyle and John Rogers were too ill to appear in court. Although defense and prosecution counsel had previously agreed to proceed with the trial of the remaining seven today, Superior Judge Roy B. Maxey ruled a week's delay.

It is anticipated that the trial will run from four to six weeks. Two days, it is expected, will be taken up with polling the 175 men and women summoned as prospective jurors in the case.

Thomas G. Corcoran, young attorney connected with the RFC and co-author of the Wheeler-Rayburn bill, warned him that if he voted against the death sentence, "he would find it necessary to stop construction on the Passamaquoddy dam in my district."

HOUSE STUNNED

The accusation stunned the House.

Despite the bitter defeat for the President—the worst since the House overrode his veto of the soldier bonus bill—Administration leaders professed to be confident of their ability to hold Congress in line.

The bill now goes to conference between the two Houses.

In making his charge against the Administration Brewster said he did not believe the President was personally responsible for bringing "pressure" on him and added that Mr. Roosevelt would not have contemplated it if he had been informed.

DEFEND ROOSEVELT

Administration forces were on their feet shouting for recognition as soon as Brewster concluded. Representative John Rankin, Democrat, Mississippi, shouted that he was certain that Mr. Roosevelt "had nothing to do with it."

Representative Hamilton Fish, Republican, New York, shot a resolution to the Speaker's desk calling for the appointment of a committee of five to investigate Brewster's charges. Representative Thomas Blanton, D., Texas, made a point of order against the motion and was overruled. The House was tense and noisy. Scores of members clamored for recognition. Speaker Joseph Byrnes was rattling vainly for order.

LIE IS HURLED

He recognized Representative Maury Maverick, Democrat, Texas, who faced Brewster and roared: "I don't believe a word Mr. Brewster stated."

Brewster, former governor of Maine, arose and raced to the well of the House. He demanded that Maverick's words be "taken down" or removed from the record. Speaker Byrnes refused.

Corcoran refused to comment on Brewster's charges.

NOT WORRIED

"I have nothing to say at all," he told the United Press.

"Since there is going to be a full investigation, it would be unfair for me to talk now."

He was smiling and apparently unworried.

In the turmoil, Representative Samuel Pettengill, Democrat, Indiana, gained the floor and offered a substitute resolution directing the rules committee to investigate the activities of all lobbyists in connection with the utilities bill.

Citizens Battle Pickets

HERE ARE some remarkable action shots taken during the height of the rioting at the entrance of the Alaska Juneau gold mine, second largest in the world, at Juneau, in which 1,000 citizens battled 150 union pickets at the climax of the month-old strike. Nearly 100 persons were injured, 10 seriously, before police broke up the riot with tear gas.

casions and we all, including the teacher, put our best foot forward in order to make a favorable impression. The tenure law was not on the statute books then, or even though of and our instructors knew that if a good showing was not made their jobs were in jeopardy. Now a teacher can, if so disposed, thumb his or her nose at the trustees and polity, or otherwise, tell them where to head in. We are informed the tenure law is a good thing, but the Lewis grand jury took a diametrically opposed view.

But even under the handicap of the tenure law I believe, if a trustee, I could make it so hot for a teacher who had no pride in her or his personal appearance and the health environments of the pupils that a chair would be quickly effected for the better, or the teacher would be divorced from the payroll.

For the sake of the public school system, in which we are all interested and in which we ordinarily take a great deal of pride, let us hope that another grand jury will not be afforded an opportunity to administer such a stinging rebuke.

Arraign Youth For Murder Of New York Girl

GREENVILLE, N. Y., July 2. Alfred E. Volkemann, confessed "thrill" slayer of 9-year-old Helen Glenn, was arraigned on a charge of first degree murder soon after dawn today and held to await action of the Green County Grand Jury in September.

The arraignment came as a surprise, for troopers had indicated it would be postponed until the new bridge.

Six troopers in charge of Sergeant J. Walter Wheeler quickly entered the Memorial hospital at Catskill, where Volkemann has been recovering from the effects of poison, and whisked him away 15 miles to this village.

SEATTLE, July 2. U. P. Communism and atheism are heading the world toward chaos, unless checked by forces of a new youth movement, Bishop William J. Hafey, Ralich, N. C., told delegates to the national convention of Catholic Daughters of America today.

The prelate cited "ill advised" youth movements of Russia, Mexico and Germany as trends leading toward social and spiritual disaster.

At the first business session of the convention, Miss Mary C. Duffy, New York, N. J., National president, named Mrs. Kathryn T. I. L. A. MEN VOTE

Meanwhile coast shipowners awaited outcome of a ballot by members of the I. L. A. on the question of whether cargoes from or destined for British Columbia ports shall be handled. The steamer Point Clear has been tied up here for several days, with longshoremen refusing to handle its cargo because it was loaded in Vancouver, a so-called non-union port.

Owners have warned the I. L. A. that unless the cargo is removed they will abrogate their working agreement with the local union.

FEAR BIG STRIKE

NEW YORK, July 2. U. P.—Joseph P. Ryan, president of the I. L. A., and William E. Green, president of the A. F. of L., acted quickly tonight to check the possibility of a nation-wide strike of longshoremen as a result of the meeting of eight members of the I. L. A. at Lake Charles, La., yesterday.

Officials of the union were angered over the reported contention of Governor O. K. Allen of Louisiana that the I. L. A. was a foreign organization and not affiliated with A. F. of L. Ryan telegraphed Green to get into immediate touch with Senators Huey P. Long and John H. Overton, and advise them to inform the governor that his reputed view was erroneous.

Ryan intimated that unless Allen changed his attitude, I. L. A. members throughout the country would be instructed not to handle any merchandise from ships landed in Gulf ports.

MAHAN SEARCH IS SPURRED BY IDENTIFICATION

BOISE, Ida., July 2. U. P.

Unsuccessful for several weeks, the search for William Mahan, Weyerhaeuser kidnapping suspect, swiftly jumped to Idaho today when Department of Justice agents took up the fugitive's trail from here.

A mysterious telephone call received here from an isolated Idaho mountain station started the new search. Officers would not divulge the identity of the informant except to say he was an officer "of some sort." When the call came to Boise officers, the unnamed informant was told to contact Russ Bryan, Department of Justice agent.

Bryan was in Boise, Mont., and was reported to have left for an unnamed Idaho destination late today.

The meager description given over the telephone fitted Mahan, officers revealed. It was announced that there would be no further developments in the report until tomorrow and that it was "very probable" that things would "break" at that time.

The "officer" who reported the Mahan tip declared that he had idea

Lions Club At Luncheon Meet Installs Heads

Officers were installed yesterday by the Richmond Lions Club at a meeting held at Hotel Carquinez. George Licksteig of Oakland was the installing officer.

Dr. George Boehmer, the retiring president, was presented with a traveling bag by R. X. Tucker on behalf of the club. A musical program was presented, including numbers by the club orchestra; piano solos by Frank Bronson; songs by Barbara Hoskins and Betty Jean Hoskins and vocal selections by F. Duffy.

The officers installed were: Dr. W. B. Jenkins, president; Dr. M. W. Morgan, vice president; A. C. Faris, secretary; Fred Caudle, treasurer; Dan Reardon, lion tamer; N. A. Duffin, tail gunner; W. P. Drummey, W. W. Forrest, William A. Hislop, H. L. Hunn and Frank F. Lind, directors.

National Guardsmen who have patrolled Tacoma since last week's violence explained extension of their activities to the residential section by asserting that an automobile owned by J. A. Phillips, team workman, was dynamited. Phillips said he fired at the intruders who returned the fire and hurled a stick of dynamite at him. The dynamite did not explode.

GUARDS CHARGED

The 3rd Battalion of the 161st Infantry returned from Tacoma to Camp Murray and was replaced by the 1st Battalion, from Spokane. The 2nd Battalion remained at Tacoma.

Additional workers returned to the Long-Bell and Weyerhaeuser mills at Longview, Wash., bringing the total employed to nearly 1,000—less than half normal employment. Union leaders urged the return under an agreement, terms of which were not revealed. Picketing was desultory, discouraged by 20 State troopers.

MEN RETURN

More men returned to the Inland-Poolman plant at Portland, operating under an agreement for 50 cents an hour and recognition of a union plant bargaining committee. The firm was loading 2,000,000 feet of bow for China, largest lumber shipment since the strike was called May 6.

Three Portland mills were on an operating basis, three were employing skeleton crews and three others made no attempt to resume operations.

Forty men returned to the Dubois-Matlock mill at Vancouver, Wash., after the firm obtained a temporary injunction against picketing.

TO ENLIST FOREIGNERS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The Ministry of War was empowered today, under a decree by Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, to enlist foreigners in the German army. The measure affected "persons who for some reason are not German citizens and Germans living abroad who want to serve the Reich."

"HELP! my baby's drowning!"

A raging flood swept down on this Standard Service Man as he was delivering a customer's car. He jumped clear. Then—a mother's agonized cry—a tiny girl struggling in the swirling water—

Back into the flood he leaped—and caught her hand! Over and over they rolled—pummeled by boulders, dragged for blocks before he could draw her to safety. And then he lay long weeks in the hospital. Later this letter came: "After nearly a month of searching, I've found the Standard Service Man who saved my daughter's life. A mother's thanks will always go with him."

One case in a million, yes! But Standard Service Men are forever "coming to the rescue" of motorists with just the products, services and attentions needed. Depend on them.
